MOTION IN LIMINE BARRING THE CITY FROM INTRODUCING COMMUNICATIONS PROTECTED BY THE COURT'S MEDIATION ORDER

Syncora Capital Assurance Inc. and Syncora Guarantee Inc. ("Syncora") submit this motion in limine to bar the City of Detroit (the "City" or "Debtor") from introducing evidence of any communications that are covered by the Court's Mediation Order. In support of their motion, Syncora respectfully states as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. On August 13, 2013, the Court entered an order providing that "[a]ll proceedings, discussions, negotiation, and writings incident to mediation shall be privileged and confidential, and shall not be disclosed, filed or placed in evidence." Mediation Order [Dkt. No. 322], ¶ 4. Throughout discovery, the City and other Plan supporters have repeatedly invoked the Mediation Order in an attempt to protect a wide range of documents, information, and communications. Specifically, the City and other Plan supporters have invoked the Mediation Order when questioned about (a) the terms, structure, and negotiations surrounding the DIA Settlement; (b) the calculation of the OPEB Claim amount; (c) the status of the negotiations surrounding the City's new collective bargaining agreements; (d) the status of negotiations with public safety groups; (e) the bases for differing treatment of COPs and LTGO, UTGO, retiree, and other creditors; and (f) the potential for asset monetization via the DWSD transaction.

- 2. In addition to the above topics, the City also invoked the Mediation Order when Syncora attempted to discern the state of the mind of various participants in the mediation. In particular, during the deposition of Mr. Orr, Syncora was repeatedly barred from inquiring into Mr. Orr's understanding of the Foundations' participation in the so-called Grand Bargain and their alleged insistence that the DIA Settlement proceeds go exclusively to retirees on the grounds that Mr. Orr's state of mind and understanding were informed by mediation communications.
- 3. In light of the City's extensive invocation of the Mediation Order, the City should not be permitted to introduce evidence of any communications incident to mediation. In addition, because the City rebuffed Syncora's attempts to delve into the state of mind of the various mediation participants, the City also should not be permitted to introduce "state of mind" evidence that is based in whole or in part on mediation communications.

4. Accordingly, Syncora respectfully requests that the Court bar the City from introducing evidence relating to (a) communications incident to the mediation and (b) the state of mind of the participants in the mediation where the state of mind was based on information or events occurring during mediation.

JURISDICTION

5. The Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 38 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue for this matter is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409.

RELIEF REQUESTED

6. Syncora respectfully moves the Court to bar the City from introducing evidence of communications covered by the Mediation Order and enter an order substantially in the form of Exhibit 1 attached hereto.

BASIS FOR RELIEF

I. Legal Standard

7. It is foundational that a privilege may not be used as both a sword and a shield. In other words, a party may not selectively disclose privileged communications in aid of establishing a claim or defense, but prevent other parties from seeking discovery relating to the same information. See In re Grand Jury Proceedings, 219 F.3d 175, 182 (2d Cir. 2000) ("In other words, a party cannot partially disclose privileged communications or affirmatively rely on privileged communications to support its claim or defense and then shield the underlying communications from scrutiny by the opposing party."). Furthermore, a party may not invoke a privilege but then attempt to introduce that evidence by inquiring into the witness's state of mind vis-à-vis the privileged information. Arista Records LLC v. Lime Grp. LLC, 06 CV 5936 KMW, 2011 WL 1642434 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 20, 2011) (granting a motion in limine seeking to preclude argument and testimony regarding a party's state of mind where defendants already blocked inquiry into the matter on the basis of privilege).

II. The City May Not Introduce Evidence of Communications That Are Part of or Incident to the Mediation

8. The Court's August 13, 2013 Mediation Order provides that "[a]ll proceedings, discussions, negotiation, and writings incident to mediation shall be privileged and confidential, and shall not be disclosed, filed or placed in evidence." Mediation Order [Dkt. No. 322], ¶ 4. The City has argued that Syncora should be precluded, on the basis of this Order, from conducting discovery on a myriad of issues, including the Foundations' contributions to the so-called Grand Bargain. See City's Statement in Support of Foundations' Joint Motion to Quash [Dkt. No. 5494]. Consistent with this position, the City has broadly invoked the Mediation Order during the depositions of City witnesses.<sup>2</sup> (See, e.g., Ex. 6A Bowen Dep. Tr. at 126:24-127:15, June 30, 2014 (invoking Mediation Order regarding discussions by actuarial firms regarding modeling methods for purposes of establishing benefit and liability reductions for the Retirement Systems); (Ex. 6B, Hall Dep. Tr. at 169:17-172:10, July 2, 2014 (invoking Mediation Order regarding union negotiations with the City); (Ex. 6C, Malhotra Dep. Tr. at 213:2-214:8, July 14, 2014 (invoking Mediation Order over pending settlements that would affect the content of Ernst & Young's forecasts); (Ex. 6D, Buckfire Dep. Tr. at 352:1-352:19, July 16, 2014 (invoking Mediation Order over the question of whether the City would contribute to the pension systems' underfunding through the year 2023); (Ex. 6E, Orr Dep. Tr. at 185:15– 186:23; 337:12–339:18; 349:11–351:9, July 22, 2014 (invoking Mediation Order over the subject of the creation of a regional water authority,<sup>3</sup> Mr. Orr's understanding of the Foundations' willingness to provide funds for the Plan of Though Syncora has repeatedly requested a privilege log, the City has refused to provide one. (Ex. 6H, Hr'g Tr. at 268:19–269:1, May 28, 2014.) Instead, the City has simply provided a chart revealing that it has withheld more than 7,500 communications with third parties on account of the Mediation Order. Notably though, the City has not disclosed how many internal communications it has withheld on account of the Mediation Order.

Though not at issue in the instant motion, Syncora maintains that the City's expansive interpretation and application of the Court's Mediation Order is improper.

A regional water authority is a significant potential revenue source for the City that could be used to pay creditors.

Adjustment, and the basis for discriminating between the City's financial creditors).)

- 9. Given the City's reliance on the Mediation Order as a shield, it should not be permitted to use the previously-withheld testimony as a sword during the trial. Nevertheless, the City has indicated that it intends to introduce evidence relating to discussions and negotiations that occurred as part of the Court-ordered mediation, including the following:
  - The OPEB Settlement: The City intends to introduce evidence that the "product of the OPEB Settlement is within the range of reasonableness." (Ex. 6F, Plan Confirmation Factual Propositions at 4); Consol. Reply [Dkt. No. 5034], ¶¶ 21-28. Yet, when City witnesses were asked how the parties calculated the size of the OPEB claim which Syncora believes is massively overstated the City invoked the Mediation Order. (Ex. 6G, Taranto Dep. Tr. at 118:11–17, Aug. 13, 2014.)
  - The size of the Pension Claims: The City intends to introduce evidence regarding the correct size of the Pension Claims which Syncora believes are also massively overstated and the "appropriate" discount rate. (Ex. 6F, Plan Confirmation Factual Propositions at 7); Consol. Reply [Dkt. No. 5034], ¶¶ 58-59. Yet, when City witnesses were asked how they arrived at the appropriate discount rate, the City invoked the Mediation Order. (Ex. 6A, Bowen Dep. Tr. at 130:3–10, June 30, 2014.)
  - The terms of the DIA Settlement: The City intends to introduce evidence that the contributions of the State and the Foundations would not otherwise be available to the City. (Ex. 6F, Plan Confirmation Factual Propositions at 7.) Yet, when City witnesses were asked about the negotiations surrounding the DIA Settlement, the City invoked the Mediation Order. (Ex. 6E, Orr Dep. Tr. at 444:8–25, July 22, 2014.)
- 10. Accordingly, the City must now be precluded from seeking to introduce, in any form, evidence or testimony of any proceeding, discussion, negotiation, or writing that was part of the Court-ordered mediation. Allowing such evidence would be unfairly prejudicial to Syncora given its inability to obtain discovery regarding these communications and negotations.

III. The City May Not Introduce Evidence of States of Mind Based In Whole or In Part on Mediation Events.

- 11. While the City's interpretation of the Mediation Order was broad in its own right, during depositions the City also took the position that a witnesses' state of mind to the extent that such state of mind was based on or informed by mediation events was also protected by the Mediation Order. For example, during the deposition of Mr. Orr, counsel for the City asserted that the terms of the Mediation Order applied to Mr. Orr's state of mind regarding the Foundations' contributions to the DIA Settlement:
  - Q. Now, if I asked you your state of mind based on what you understood the foundations to be willing to do or what you thought they would be willing to do, you would also invoke the mediation order to the extent his state of mind was created by communications of the foundation, correct?
  - MR. SHUMAKER: I think that's right because I don't see how he could give you his impressions or his understanding without going into what was going on in the mediation.

(Ex. 6E, Orr. Dep. Tr. at 338:17–339:2, July 22, 2014.)

12. The City took a similar position during the deposition of Mr. Hall, the City's Director of Human Resources and Labor Relations:

- Q. . . . Your understanding is that the unions will not come out in public support of the grand bargain until they have reached a new collective bargaining agreement with the City, correct?
- MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Objection to the extent that what he understands is based on what he learned through the mediation process, it's covered by the mediation order. I direct you not to answer.

To the extent that his state of mind or what he understands about what the unions will or will not do is based on information that has been conveyed to him through the mediation process. Our position is that that is covered by the mediation order.

(Ex. 6B, Hall Dep. Tr. at 170:6–171:12, July 2, 2014.) In short, the City has used the Mediation Order to shield information relating to the states of mind of the City's agents and employees to the extent such information is based on the mediation.

13. Yet, as in Arista Records LLC, 2011 WL 1642434, the City cannot shield from investigation Mr. Orr or Mr. Hall's states of mind and, at the same time, seek to introduce information of their states of mind to justify decisions regarding Plan treatment or Plan structure. The Court in Arista Records made clear that a defendant will be barred from introducing evidence regarding its beliefs where, in a prior phase of the proceedings, the defendant sought to protect information regarding that state of mind from discovery based on an assertion of privilege. Arista Records LLC, 2011 WL 1642434 ("Having blocked his adversary from conducting discovery on this issue, [the defendant] will not now be heard to advance reliance on counsel." (quoting E.G.L. Gem Lab Ltd. v. Gem Quality Inst., Inc., 90 F. Supp. 2d 277, 284 (S.D.N.Y. 2000), aff'd, 4 F. App'x 81 (2d Cir. 2001))).

14. As such, the City should be precluded from introducing testimony at trial regarding the state of mind of its witnesses where the state of mind is based, in whole or in part, on events or information that are incident to mediation. To allow otherwise would subject Syncora to unfair surprise and prejudice.

CONCLUSION

15. For the foregoing reasons, Syncora respectfully requests that the Court bar the City from introducing evidence of communications covered by the Court's Mediation Order.

It also indicates here that in that derivation of the -- what's been called the 428 5 figure, Mr. Moore was designated as the 30(b)6 5 same paragraph, it says that the fact that such 6 6 obligations are driven by actuarial analyses and 7 7 assumptions, such obligations have traditionally MR. I'm just asking you if you were involved in that So I'm trying to connect up those two 11 11 concepts. What -- what is the connection between the determination? 12 12 fact that these pension obligations are driven by 13 Q. You are with Miller Buckfire? 13 actuarial analyses and the fact that they create an 14 obstacle to the City's financial planning? 14 A. Correct. 15 A. I already answered that question. Actuarial 15 Q. And in paragraph 3 of your expert report -- and you 16 can refer to that. You indicate that in the third --16 assumptions --17 17 third sentence starting with in addition, it says in Q. Indulge me, it's been a long two days. 18 18 addition to other obligations, the City will have Actuarial assumptions and analysis ultimately do drive 19 19 addressed and brought greater certainty and required pension contribution costs. There's a cash 20 20 predictability with respect to its pension benefit and cost associated with being required by an actuary to 21 21 make certain contributions. That is inherently OPEB obligations; do you see that? 22 22 unpredictable because it does change relative to A. I do. 23 market asset performance and benefit costs, 23 Q. Okay, can you tell me what that means? 24 24 themselves. It's not something directly within the A. I answered this question yesterday. 25 25 Q. I'm sorry, I apologize. I might have missed City's control, and the larger the underfunding is, Page 354 Page 356 1 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 KENNETH BUCKFIRE, VOLUME 2 2 something. Could you give it to me again? 2 the more of a projected burden that will be on the 3 3 A. The City by action of the plan of adjustment is City because at some point, that gap has to be closed, 4 eliminating $7 billion worth of present value of 4 and that makes it very difficult for a City to make 5 5 liabilities, most of which was represented by unfunded long-term financial plans knowing that at some point 6 6 pension and healthcare benefit costs. The burden of in the next 10 or 20 years, it will have to satisfy those costs upon the City have been that the its pension obligations whether or not it has the requirement to fund them currently with substantial 8 assets to do so. 9 9 cash has often been outside of the City's control, as Q. There's an actuarial component to what it's going to 10 10 it's been driven by independent factors, healthcare have to pay down the road; is there not? 11 plans, benefit costs, pension contribution levels. 11 A. There is when you estimate today what your 12 By eliminating such a large amount of the 12 contribution has to be to the pension fund but the 13 13 present value and converting the balance of these actual benefit costs, themselves, is something you 14 remaining claims into a debt obligation stream 14 find out every year when people retire and register 15 represented by the contribution by DWSD for catchup 15 for their claimant payments. So we're talking about 16 and also by the series B notes, the City will have 16 the funding problem -- the funding problem, not the 17 much greater control over it's discretionary costs and 17 benefit cost problem that drives this. 18 its ability to meet its remaining contractual 18 I also note your earlier point that the 19 19 obligations when due. ten-year period of stability is crucial because we do 20 Q. Well, okay, I certainly agree with you with respect to 20 assume and we have every right to do so that the 21 through the years, the year 2023 that said you will 21 City's ability to revitalize itself be successful and, 22 have virtually no obligation to pay in connection with 2.2 therefore, will have the ability to be a healthy viable City beyond year ten, which means from a 23 23 those costs, correct? 24 A. Correct, that was an objective of our plan. 24 capital market's perspective, the expectation should 25 Q. So that's certainly predictable. But what about with be that it will have no difficulty raising capital impacted, and the extent to which they could sustain the changes to them because of the fact that they're cutting deals. I don't know. But it puts us in an impossible position when they use their prior decisions to say, "Well, we really shouldn't have to do anything more because we got to keep the trial date, and we don't want to move the schedule."

THE COURT: Well, it's a close question, but I must side with Mr. Hackney here that the additional production through the second plan should have been provided here, and the Court will request that and order that.

MR. HACKNEY: Your Honor, points three and four I'll be very brief. I think point four was that we'd actually ask there to be an order that they get us our interrogatories by Friday so that we can have a date certain. It sounds like Mr. Irwin is going to do that anyway. Point three is an important one for --

THE COURT: I'll agree with that. You may submit an order.

MR. HACKNEY: Your Honor, point three is an important one given our colloquy earlier. I'd like you to consider it. The Hale affidavit says that they are construing the mediation privilege broadly. You can also imagine nuanced questions about who is covered by the mediation privilege, the most obvious of which being that the charitable foundations weren't actually creditors in the case at the time they were invoked, so there are questions about the scope of the privilege, questions about the application of it by the city. It is my view that the city should log documents that they're withholding on the basis of this mediation privilege for two reasons. Number one, it may be something -- this is definitely a log where you can see looking at it and saying, wait a second, that's from a time period before the mediation order, wait a second, that's not a person involved the mediation, point one, but point two, I think that you're going to want to have this log whether it's for in camera review or for issues that come up down the road at trial. And so my suggestion is one that I'm sure the city is gritting its teeth over, but this is one of those things that I think if they start doing now we're all going to be very glad that it exists when the trial comes along because if we hit one of these issues and it's not all prepared, that could be a real delay.

MR. IRWIN: Your Honor, the issue of privilege logs
I think was one that we discussed with multiple parties at the outset of discovery. I don't understand what purpose is served to see if the city executed on its understanding of the mediation order. It is yet another potentially --

THE COURT: Yeah. I agree that the burden involved in this is much greater than any potential value of it, so I will not order this.

MR. HACKNEY: Your Honor, if I could briefly speak to the schedule and then sit down, I think that our argument is pretty simple, which is we have proposed in the fifth amended scheduling order -- the proposed fifth amended scheduling order something that I think is unremarkable and also fair and sort of charitable to the situation that we, as creditors, find ourselves in, which is we've proposed to move fact discovery cutoff and all the associated dates back three weeks from June 27 to July 18. Okay. That is 22 days, I should say, to be precise.

Now, I woke up at four in the morning again today.

I always know that you want to know what time I wake up. But I think part of the reason that I was -- I don't understand why it's so controversial where the city is four weeks, five weeks behind in its written discovery, you know, obligations.
The order said comply with written discovery by May 6. Here we are almost into early June. I don't have interrogatory responses. We're talking about important people that have not been searched. We're talking about date limitations that don't make sense. For me to come back and for the DTEC and the other members of the creditors to come back and say,
"We're going to take the city's efforts to remedy this in good faith. We see what Mr. Irwin is trying to do here.
We'll only move the schedule three weeks," to me seems like the height of reasonableness, point one. Point two, your Honor, it still allows for a trial schedule that I think gets the trial done before September 30. So to the extent that Mayor Duggan is going to fire Kevyn Orr and fire Jones Day as soon as he possibly can, which I think was reported in the press and in some respects I think raised sort of larger and more troubling questions about why that would be the case --THE COURT: Well, let's pause here. Has that issue been resolved?

MR. SHUMAKER: It has not, your Honor. There's been no final answer in that regard.

MR. HACKNEY: Respectfully, your Honor, I don't think that Mayor Duggan gets to -- he has his powers, but I'm not sure that he gets to effectively dictate to you when you have to have a trial by. And I also want to note that you see a number of warning signs blinking.

THE COURT: Well, I just want to say for the record that it would be a really bad idea for the city, the mayor, to terminate Jones Day's services at such a critical phase in this process. I don't exactly know where we will be on September 30th or in the few days before or after that, but whatever phase it is, it will be a critical phase because we'll either be in the process of negotiating and drafting a confirmation order or an order of dismissal and dealing with the consequences of that, or we'll be dealing with how to get
